About the Work

The Future of Work
Self-initiated editorial illustration inspired by The Verge and later cited in a Medium article, exploring how AI can handle repetitive tasks while humans retain creative judgment and final decision-making.

We Don't Belong Here
Featured in a Spectrum News NY1 interview. A giant struggles through a city too small for her, while the baby she carries and blooming flowers symbolize hope and resilience.

Dominoes
Commissioned editorial illustration for Cosmopolitan about how small workplace mistakes can create lasting negative impressions—and how trust can be rebuilt through consistent positive action.

Navigating the New Environment

The feeling of stepping into an unfamiliar workplace.

Pressure and Expectations

Invisible pressures and self-doubt follow every step.

Small Steps, Big Transition

Each step builds toward the transition from student to professional.

DAIFUKU RAMEN

BRAND IDENTITY / ILLUSTRATION / MENU / MERCHANDISE

A playful ramen identity that brings a hand-drawn dinosaur mascot to life across packaging, menus, signage, and merchandise. Drawing from the restaurant's signature spicy ramen, the branding uses flame imagery and a bold red palette to express heat, energy, and humor.
